Title: “AT Professional Factory Tour and Product Demonstrations”

Description: The Mission of AT Professional is to research, develop and manufacture loudspeaker systems and related electronic products with no equal. With over 40 years of experience in the field AT Professional have been able to develop cabinets that have been ranked alongside the world’s top brands.

The technical meeting will consist of a tour of the AT Professional factory to illustrate various processes involved in sound system manufacture, including cabinet assembly, coating, electronic componentry and fit-out. There will be hands-on demonstrations of products and opportunities to ask questions about sound system component design to enable AAS Members to gain an in-depth appreciation of the nuances involved in the design, manufacturing and installation of high-end audio equipment.

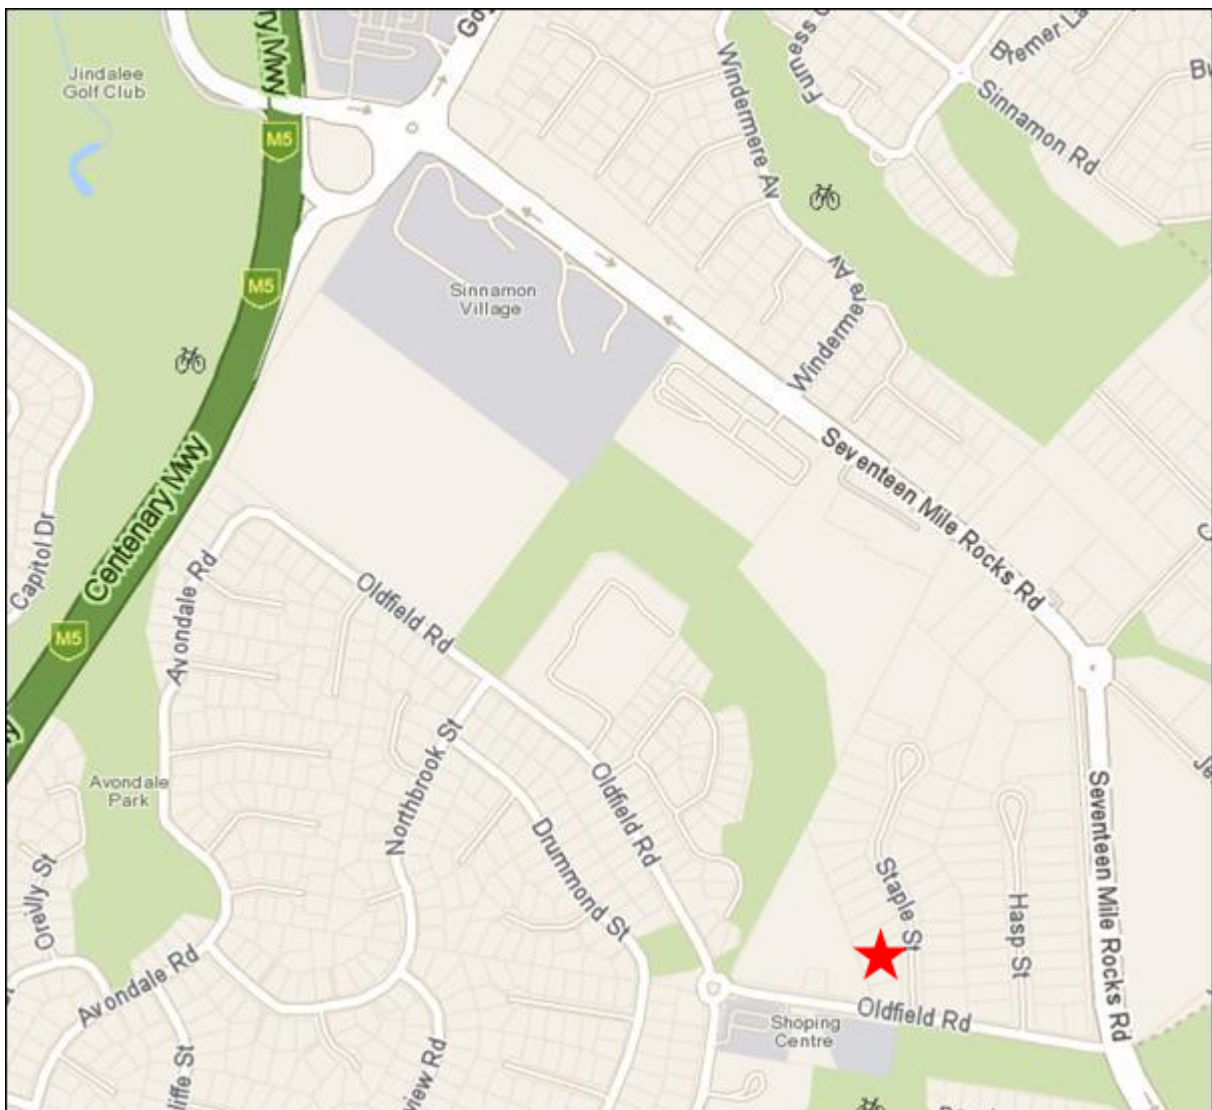

Presenters: Jason Roesler
General Manager – Sales
AT Professional Audio Systems

Richard Faint
Director of Engineering
AT Professional Audio Systems

Refreshments: Food and drink will be supplied by AT Professional Audio Systems at no cost to Society Members and guests.

Cost: Free to current members and guests of the Australian Acoustical Society.

Location: To reach AT Professional Audio Systems take the Seventeen Mile Rocks Road exit from the Centenary Motorway. Follow Seventeen Mile Rocks Road towards Oxley and turn right into Oldfield Road. Staple Street is the second street on the right, with AT Professional located on the LHS as you drive along Staple Street. There is plenty of on-street parking.
