Title: "Acoustic Design of the New Performing Arts Centre, SPLC"

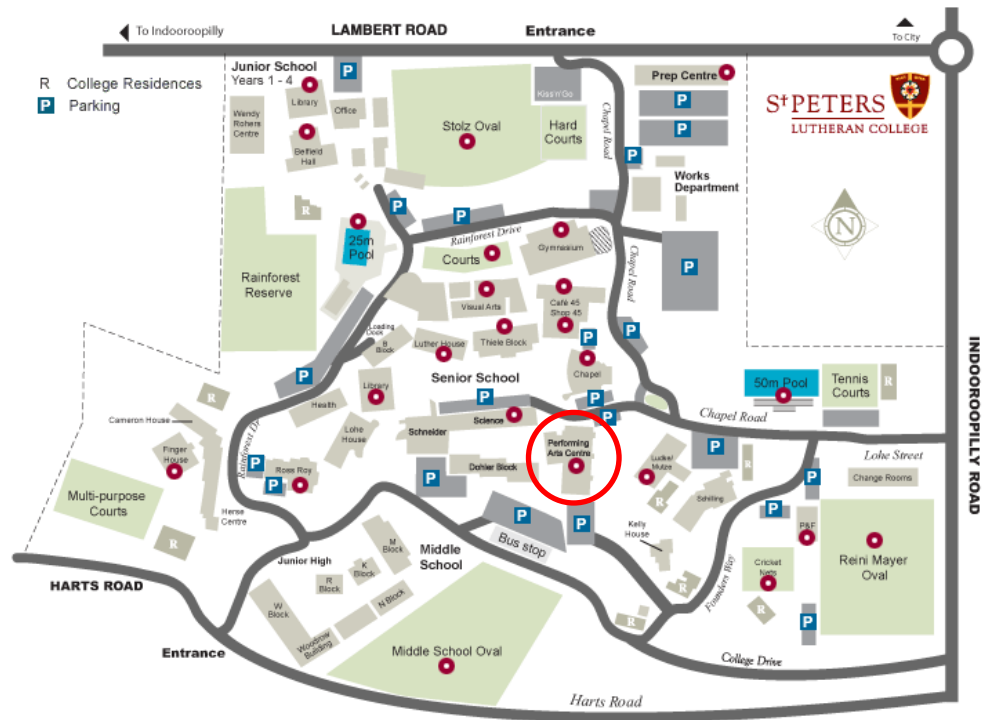

Description: A magnificent new Performing Arts Centre including a 1000 seat Hall has now been completed for SPLC in Indooroopilly, a music focused school. This talk will cover the primary features of the acoustical design and the story of their development for the project, including some unique to this facility. To allow a taste of the end results, a musical performance by some of the school's very accomplished musicians will be given in the Hall prior to the talk. A sneak preview of the Hall can be seen at <http://t.co/C4dnTV1vvn>.

Presenter: James Heddle
Principal/Managing Director
James Heddle Pty Ltd Acoustical Consultants

Cost: Free to current members and guests of the Australian Acoustical Society.

Location: The location of the Performing Arts Centre is circled in the figure below. Enter the School grounds and park in a nearby carpark to the Centre.
