

Principal Adviser Noise

Environment Protection Authority, South Australia

- Ongoing Contract
- SA Public Sector Employment
- Adelaide CBD Location

The Environment Protection Authority (EPA) is South Australia's independent environment protection regulator. We protect, restore and enhance the environment through the risk-based regulation of pollution, waste, noise and radiation. We work closely with industry, the community and government to protect our unique natural environment while supporting economic growth and improving wellbeing.

At the EPA:

- We are committed to the challenge of attracting good people and developing their potential.
- We aim to retain our employees by providing innovative learning and development opportunities, and employee benefits.
- We recognise the value of employees who are motivated and able to balance their work and life.

The Role:

The Principal Adviser Noise leads our noise team, providing high level noise and vibration advice to inform development assessment, licensing, compliance, legislation and policy. Excellent communication and people management skills are essential to establish effective relationships across the EPA, with members of the community, industry and other agencies.

The incumbent is responsible for the interpretation of highly complex environmental noise data and information, developing and reviewing noise guidelines, developing integrated noise monitoring and modelling tools, quality assurance of noise work by the team, managing projects, the provision of authoritative high-level noise/vibration engineering advice, supporting the Manager and contributing to the leadership of the Branch.

As the EPA increasingly integrates its scientific work, the Principal Adviser will lead and participate in projects that involve other parts of the EPA such as air quality and community engagement.

Essential Qualifications:

Degree in mechanical/electrical engineering or science with strong background in physics and acoustics.

Special Conditions:

- The EPA encourages and provides opportunities for staff to work flexibly.
- Out of hours work, intrastate travel and occasional interstate travel may be required.
- A current driver's licence is essential.
- The EPA is an equal opportunities employer and has a no smoking policy.
