Environmental Officer or Engineer (Noise)

The Department of Water and Environmental Regulation (DWER) is a vibrant agency committed to ensuring Western Australia's resources and environment are healthy and able to support a strong economy and thriving communities, now and into the future. DWER is responsible for environmental and water regulation, creating a 'one stop shop' for industry and developers providing greater opportunities for streamlining and simplifying regulation.

Our values-based culture reflects who we are and how we go about business.

We care | We build trust | Better together | Open minds | We serve to make a difference

Find out more about us by visiting our website at www.dwer.wa.gov.au

The Opportunity:

This is a permanent opportunity.

DWER's Environmental Noise Branch are looking for a confident and motivated engineering or science professional who has experience in environmental acoustics.

The successful applicant will be required to provide technical advice on environmental noise issues to government agencies, local government, industry and the community in Western Australia, assist with the statutory process of assessing and processing applications for ministerial variation under regulation 17 of the Environmental Protection (Noise) Regulations 1997 and support the department's impact assessment, regulatory and policy functions.

We recognise that flexible working arrangements support effective work-life balance, empowers our people and increases team productivity. We are committed to creating an equitable and diverse workforce that promotes an inclusive and supportive workplace environment. We value the unique diversity of experience that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, people with disability, people from culturally diverse backgrounds, women and youth bring to our workforce.

For further information about the opportunity we encourage you to contact Emma Bridgeman on (08) 6364 6913 during business hours.
